Understanding Behaviour

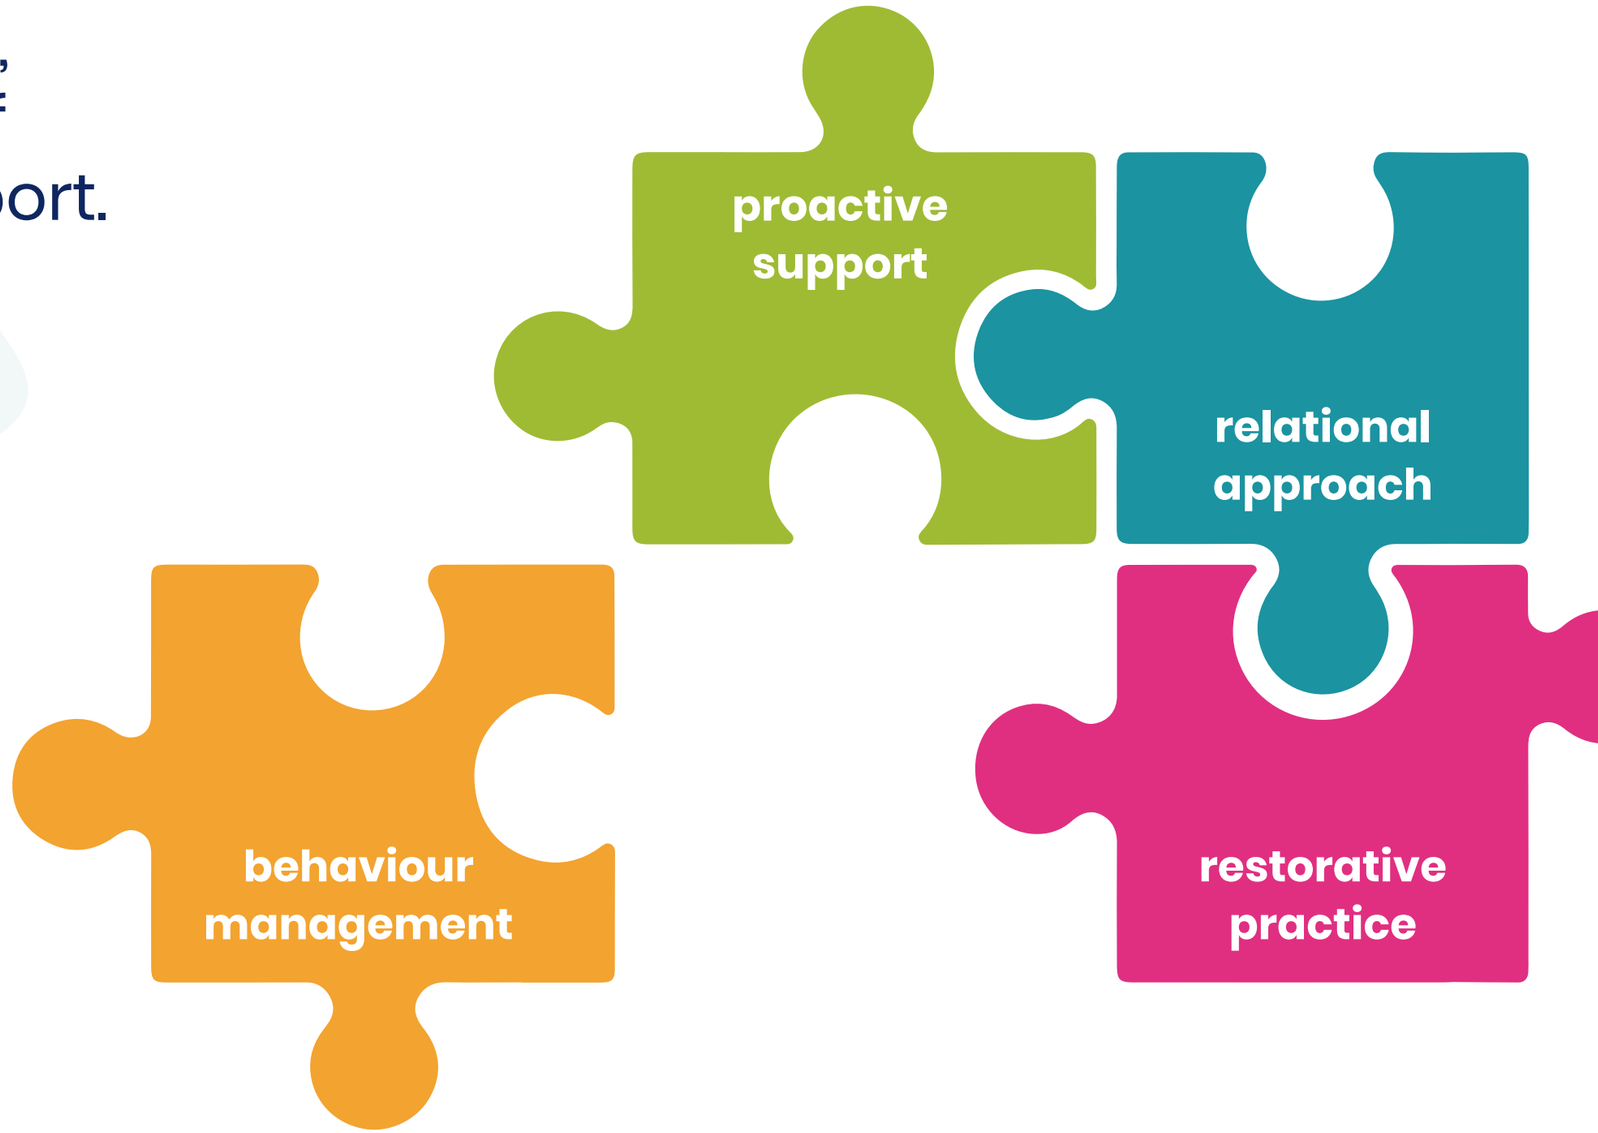

TeamTeach

Behaviour Management	VS	Behaviour Support
Addresses the immediate behaviour	→	Considers the underlying cause
How do I stop this behaviour now?	→	What support do they need to move forward?
Relies on control	→	Relies on relationships
Calms the situation in the moment	→	Creates long-term positive change

Behaviour Toolkit

There are moments that need behaviour management, but this is just one part of effective behaviour support.

Interrupting the Behaviour Cycle

If we only manage behaviour, nothing changes.

Behaviour support helps us interrupt the cycle to create long-term positive change.
